'TIS TO US NO CAUSE OF SORROW

- 2. Happy they, who, all committing to their Father's care and love, let him choose what most is fitting, and of all he does approve; they are free from anxious care, blessed in this his people are.
- 3. Teach us, O our God and Father, teach us to obey thee thus; be thy choice our portion, rather than what might seem good to us; 'tis not meet we should refuse aught that thou, our God, shalt choose.
- 4. Future things with thee are present, all to come thine eye can see; safe it is for us, and pleasant, future things to trust to thee; then thy people happy are, when on thee they cast their care.
