THE GOOD TREASURE

2. In silent praise to God above my grateful heart I lift, and thank him that I have thy love, O thou, his choicest gift!From day to day, and year to year, experience makes this truth more clear, that he a precious thing hath found, to whom a faithful heart is bound.

3. A pious heart, which thou hast brought, O God, to trust in thee; a loving heart, which thou hast taught to love unchangeably; a heart on which we may depend, in weal and woe, till life shall end; a heart which is fast linked to ours by love most strong in darkest hours.

4. Let him then bless thee, who thro' thee hath me so richly blessed;
may blessings both on thee and me, whate'er befall us, rest!
In faith, and hope, and love, both one, may we our course together run; and when our life on earth is o'er, live with the Lord for evermore.

Words: Carl Johann Philipp Spitta. Translation: Richard Massie. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Copyright © 2017 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/1487/