

- 2. We are watching round thy tomb; angel wings flit through the gloom, and the blissful morn draws nigh when, through earth, and air, and sky, shall the wondrous news be spread "Christ is risen from the dead!"
 "Christ is risen from the dead!"
- 3. Happy those who saw thee then, "fairer than the sons of men"; happy those to whom 'twas given to behold thee rise to heaven! We a blessing, too, receive, "who, not having seen, believe", "who, not having seen, believe".
- 4. Saviour of once ruined man!
 sealed is the stupendous plan:
 on its bright, triumphant close
 firmly all our hopes repose.
 Oh! to feel each day, each hour,
 more thy resurrection's power,
 more thy resurrection's power.
