ANGELS HEARD WITH ADMIRATION

- 2. Angels, with profound amazement, saw th' eternal King come down; in the time of his abasement, saw the Saviour stand alone; angels saw him, angels saw him then deserted by his own.
- 3. Angels saw the Saviour dying on the cross, in love to men; angels saw his body lying in the tomb among the slain: O how awful, O how awful sin appeared to angels then!
- 4. Angels saw him rise victorious from the tomb in which he lay; never sight was seen so glorious as what angels saw that day, when the Saviour, when the Saviour rose, and death resigned his prey.

- 5. Hark! what bursts of acclamation through th' eternal arches ring; angels now ascribe salvation to the everlasting King: loud their praises, loud their praises, "Glory to the Lamb" they sing.
- 6. Praise the Lamb, ye saints adore him, ye for whom he shed his blood; bow with angels, bow before him, make his glory known abroad: saints and angels, saints and angels join to praise the Lamb of God.
