LOVE'S REVIVAL

2. Sick unto death am I, and death mine end must be, unless, my God, I find eternal life in thee: when shall my sorrow end, when shall my joy begin?O, save me from myself, and save me from my sin.

J. I cannot rise or move,
I cannot think or speak,
only thy breath of love
I feel upon my cheek;
it lifts my fainting heart,
it lights my languid eye,
it breathes into me life,
and says I shall not die.

4. I shall not die but live, mine is a Saviour's care, I shall not die but live, and all his works declare; the Love that death endured, the Love that life bestowed, hath all my sickness cured, and saved me for my God.
