CREDO, NON OPINOR

- sure wisdom and pure light, with lowly, loving fear; the steadfast, ever-looking eye, the ever-listening ear;
- 3. calm faith that grasps the word of him who cannot lie, that hears alone the voice divine, though crowds are standing by.
- 4. The one whole truth I seek in this sad age of strife, the truth of him who is the Truth, and in whose truth is life;
- 5. truth which contains true rest, which is the grave of doubt, which ends uncertainty and gloom, and casts the falsehood out.
- 6. O true One, give me truth, and let it quench in me the thirst of this long-craving heart, and set my spirit free.
- 7. O Truth of God, destroy the cloud, the chain, the war; dawn to this stormy midnight be, my bright and morning-star!

Words: Horatius Bonar. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg.
Copyright © 2022 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/2307/