

2. He took our place!
the Righteous for the unrighteous dies;
upon the altar bleeding lies
the sin-atoning Sacrifice:
behold the Christ of God!

6. He took our doom! for us the Sinless sin was made, our condemnation on him laid, our everlasting debt was paid: behold the empty tomb!

3. He took our sins!
he callèd them his own, and they
on him as the Sin-offering lay;
he bore each one of them away:
behold the Lamb of God!

7. He took our name! the second Adam, next to kin, man, very man, without, within, in everything excepting sin: behold the Son of Man!

4. He took our guilt!
guilt as the ocean-flood immense;
bore it, in love, for ever hence;
gave in exchange his innocence:
behold the Son of God!

8. He bore our shame!
descending from the heavenly throne,
bruised, buffeted, and spit upon,
he bore the sinner's shame alone:
behold the King of kings!

5. He took our death!
the death we should have undergone God's holy, well beloved Son accepts it as in law his own:
behold the Surety's cross!
