THE SHEPHERD'S VOICE

2. A stranger-voice

they know not, love not, follow not, but flee: one voice alone attracts; 'tis his who said, "Come unto me."

3. He knows his sheep;

he counts them, and he calleth them by name.
He goes before;
they follow as he leads, through flood or flame.

4. He leads them out into the pastures green, by waters still; he leads them in, and guards them safe, within the fold, from ill.

5. O wise and good,O strong and loving One, mighty to save,thine own thou wiltstill keep, and bring them up from the dark grave.

- 6. No want is theirs; thy fullness at their side doth ever stand: no peril theirs; for none can ever pluck them from thy hand.
- 7. And when this day of storm and scattering is ended here, thou wilt them bring to greener pastures, and to streams more clear.
- 8. Amen, Amen!
 Good Shepherd, hasten thou that glorious day, when we shall all in the one fold abide with thee for aye.
- 9. Thou in the midst, and we delivered from all fear and sin; no hunger more, no thirst, nor heat, upon these plains of green.
- 10. O Lamb of God, true Shepherd and true Lamb, thou both in one, us lead, us feed, till, all our wanderings done, we reach the throne!

Words: Horatious Bonar. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg.
Copyright © 2014 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/510/