THE TRUE CROSS

2. There peace for ever made by God, – himself our peace, we see; himself the bearer of our guilt on the great altar-tree.

3. The reconciling work was done, the work that ends the strife, when he, the Word made flesh, for us laid down his human life.

4. The debt was paid, the peace was made, the veil was rent in twain, and access to the Father given, by him the victim slain.

5. We come then boldly to the throne: with a true heart we come, emboldened only by the blood which speaks the 'Welcome home!'
