

- 2. The tidings from that tree of love are still God's message from above, telling, each hour, of cleansing blood, and pointing to the upward road.

 I hear and live!
- 3. Still does the Christ his grace reveal, his well of living joy unseal; still telling of his love and light, his meekness, majesty, and might.
 I come and live!
- 4. Still waves life's tree its glorious wealth, laden with everlasting health; with fruit and leaf divinely fair, and immortality still there.

 I eat and live!
- 5. Still from the rock the waters burst to quench the weary spirit's thirst; who drinketh once will drink again, who drinketh shall not drink in vain. I drink and live!

Words: Horatius Bonar. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg.
Copyright © 2012 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/590/