GOD'S HIDDEN ONES

- 2. Beneath thy wing and near thy heart, Eternal Love, they rest; no foe they fear, no venomed dart, with thee secure and blessed.
- 3. Thanks, thanks that thou my wandering feet hast led, and made me thine; that, safe within this dear retreat, thou bidst me call thee mine!
- 4. No more I yield to boding fears, since in thine arms I lie; when grief would drown mine eyes in tears, those tears thy hand shall dry.
- 5. Let thunders shake the solid ground, serene my soul shall be; let gloom and darkness close me round, 'tis ever light with thee!
- 6. O more and more my soul possess, make heart and will thine own; enrobe me with thy righteousness, and in me reign alone.
