

2. as the rose amidst the briars fresh and fair is found, heedless of the tangled thicket, and the thorns around –

3. as the sun-flower ever turning to the mighty sun,with the faithfulness of fealty following only one –

Words: Frances Bevan (after Johannes Tauler). Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Copyright © 2013 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/881/