THE DAILY LESSON

- 2. Oft I feel eager to fulfil some right intent, as best I may; then comes the mandate "to be still," to work not, but obey.
- 3. I meekly plead, "Life's little hour for me, far spent, will soon expire;" my Lord replies, "Thou wilt have power when thou shalt come up higher."
- 4. In others, in myself, I see evils I long at once to cure; then comes this gentle check to me; "Be patient, and endure."
- 5. I think, if this or that were changed, I could do better, and do more; but is not every step arranged by thee, whom I adore?
- 6. That wisdom which can never fail, that love whose depths can ne'er be scanned, e'en in its most minute detail, my daily life has planned.
- 7. Then let me with implicit faith in thee confide, on thee depend, and say, "Chose thou my hourly path, my Lord, e'en to the end."
